This is how you promote it.

I would post and ad on craigslist or gumtree or any other place like that. I've likewise done this in a newspaper and found that it works even better that way. (humans offline tend to be more trusting then those who are online)

So ad goes something like that :

Quote:

I am when it comes to to begin a coaching class that will teach its students how to make at least $100 day after day online. I will price it $750 per student. But as I need testimonials , I am taking on students and going to teach them everything with out a charge. This coaching will teach how to make cash to total beginners and "experts" similar. do not miss out on this offer, it could dramatically alter your life.

I would likewise include my contact details. (an email)

Now you must have a configured and autoresponder that says something like that : thank you. Blablablah. (usual stuff). You will tell them that you will be holding a free webinar at lets say 7pm on wednesday (any day will do. ensure it's in evening, since more humans are available then). Tell them that you will be hosting it soon and they must register with webex meetmenow online meetings and give them your affiliate link. Explain that this is a free trial and will cost them nothing.

Now what took place is that you got a boatload of humans signing up trough your aff link.

So what exactly are you going to teach them? Well find any ebook that you have bought or any random cash making method that you found here. I've applied the ac method.

BONUS METHOD!

I put this in action when I was tapped. whether or not you do it in an accurate manner there is an almost 100% conversion rate.

- 1. Look in the yellow pages. Find a business that already has a web site.
- 2. Call them up and ask whether or not they have a web site you can visit (to assure).
- 3. Ask
- 4. whether or not they do, then buy a domain that sounds like their business. So whether or not their web site is www. Fishingbait. Com register www. Bestfishingbait. Com
- 5. Point it to one of their competitor's websites.
- 6. Call them up and ask for the manager or owner. For more prominent companies ask for the advertising division.
- 7. Tell them to go to the web site. they'll see their contender.
- 8. Now tell them that you can get the domain for them!
- 9. they'll be ecstatic. they'll in all probability ask. How much? And how is this possible? Tell them that you own the domain and that their contender is very rude and you find it unmanageable to work with them. Now offer the domain to them for just $50 usd.
- 10. they'll in all probability buy it. Point it to their web site. Bam! $40 net profit for you. whether or not they refuse, point the domain to their web site and go to their contender.

This works because they think they're taking business away from their contenders and becoming it for themselves. You can scale this up insanely, there are in a literal sense thousands of businesses out there. You can even outsource it whether or not you choose.
